Index

A
Action/words inconsistencies, as sign of misalignment, 145 Adding products stage of growth, 27, 27f, 74
product transitions, 27
case examples, 28–29
and structure biases, 29 timing, 28
Alignment issues, 12–13, 123, 230–231
case examples, 124
considerations worksheets, 132, 147 considerations/antidotes, 145–147 external indicators and vital signs, 146f later stage challenges, 34–37, 36f, 133–134 billiard ball management, 135–138, 137f, 139f conflicting business models, 141–143 misaligned goals/metrics/rewards, 138–140 product portfolio/sales channel capacity mismatch, 140–141 schedule/quality conflict, 141 silo organizations, 35–36, 134–135 monitoring/measuring, 143 accountability for, 144 limitations of metrics, 143–144 sensing misalignment, 144–145 start-up value chain, 126, 127f tenets of, 125
clear goals/clear leadership model, 128–129 difficulty increases with growth, 127–128 recognition of, 125–127 structure biases results, 131–133 value chain mapping, 129–131, 130f, 131f Amazon.com, as disruptor company, 56, 57
America Online (AOL), and Ascend, 7
AOL, as disruptor company, 56
Apple, 72, 181
Ascend, 7–8, 113, 114
AT&T, 52, 64, 94
Computer Systems case example, 140
DOSS system, 134–135
leadership requirements, 180 and MCI, 25
Project Miracles program, 132–133 response to deregulation, 37
Avon, 6
Barad, Jill, 173
Bell Labs, 52
Billiard ball management, 135–138, 137f
Board of directors oversight, 16, 211–212 board evolution, 212–213 board role, 213–214
considerations worksheet, 223–224
and healthy paranoia, 38 and leadership DNA, 184 proactive vs. reactive, 37 strengthening DNA, 218
new policies, 219–222
subcommittees, 218–219
vital signs, 222, 223f
weak, 214, 217–218
evaluating mergers, 215 lack of guidance, 215–216 nonaction/CEO failure, 214–215 shareholder assets protection, 216–217
Brownian motion pitfalls, 31–32, 39, 133
Burroughs, 65
Bush, Vannevar, 60
Cabletron, 68
Cannibalization of revenues, 10, 24, 74
Cisco case example, 24–25
Cascade, 113
CEO Barbie, 173
Chambers, John, 90, 182
Change categories, 57
Christensen, Clayton, 54
Cisco Systems, 7, 8f, 12, 68, 70, 73, 114 acquisitions, 90
case example developing cultural fit, 186–188 channel conflict case example, 139–141 culture maintenance case example, 166–167 differentiating strategy, 90
as disruptor company, 56
governance systems challenge, 15–16 informational forums example, 205–206 and kinetic energy, 63
vs. Lucent, 150–151
multiple business lines case example, 33–34 planned cannibalization example, 24–25 product transition case study/3R routers, 76, 83–84 developing/positioning 3R, 76–77 options, 77–78
options evaluation, 77–80, 79f strategic decision, 80, 81f, 82 product transition case study/3R routers (background), 241 history, 241–243
meeting the competition, 244 option choice, 247–248 sales and distribution, 244–246 user-access market development, 243 software development example, 28 success model/leadership competencies, 188f Cisco Systems, continued
see also Strategies for success case study/Cisco A&D model Coke, 173
Collins, Jim, 173, 176
Compaq, 7, 8f, 61, 72, 108, 109
as disruptor company, 56
Competitive advantage, 228–229 plane of, 8
relationship to predictable challenges, 1, 4 Complexity, 2f, 227
and differentiation, 8
and difficult times, 231–232 dimensions of, 5–8 distribution, 5
scale, 5
simultaneous innovation/disruption of two dimensions (plane), 5–6, 54f, 55 technology/positioning, 5 and growth, 1
everly growth, 27f
neutralization by culture, 154–155 predictable challenges of, 1, 2, 3f, 229–231 and stages of growth, 21 see also Execution challenges of complexity; Governance challenges of complexity and procrastination, 145 Control Data, 62
ConvergeNet, 63
Crescendo, 68
Culture, 149
case example of developing cultural fit, 186–188
considerations worksheet, 168–169 foundations (establishment of), 164–165 everly learning, 165
later learning, 165–166 maintenance during high growth, 166–169 as governing tool, 151–152 executive behavior (leadership) influence, 153–154 learning from cultural norms, 153 neutralizing complexity, 154–155 of learning, 13–14, 149, 156–157, 170f, 229–230 appetite for feedback element, 157–159 as competitive advantage, 155–156, 155f, 156f leaders as coaches, 162–164, 163f planned experimentation element, 161–162 vigorous dialogue element, 160–161 shaping opportunities, 163f vital signs, 170
Customers
beachhead, 202
and customer-insertion engineering, 200
D
DEC, 61, 62, 65
deadly strategy, 31, 108 Dell Computer Corporation, 7, 8f, 55, 63
as disruptor company, 56
Direction, and strategy, 11, 89 Disruption dimensions, 9–10, 54–55, 54f disruptor companies, 55–56, 56f successful elements, 55–56 action planning, 65–66 attitude embracing change, 58 insertion strategies, 66–67 market physics mastery, 59 partnerships and acquisitions, 68 science of managing disruption, 68–70 strategic position choice, 56, 57 see also Disruptors Checklist; Laws of Market Disruption Disruptors Checklist, 66–67, 66f
considerations worksheet, 67
dot.coms, 61, 65
E
Enron, 16, 226–227
Ericsson, 68
Execution challenges of complexity, 1, 9, 17f, 225
alignment, 12–13, 34–37
structure/results, 12, 131–133
innovation, 9–10
as perils/opportunities, 4f
product transitions, 10–11
strategy, 11–12
Extras, as sign of misalignment, 145
F
Failure
case examples, 3–4
considerations worksheet, 41–42
relationship to predictable challenges, 1 threads of, 3, 229–231
by growth stage, 38, 39f, 40f see also Vital signs
Fast follower, 9
Fiddler, Jerry, 182
Fiorina, Carly, 174
G
General Electric, 94
and governance systems, 16
and leadership issues, 164, 175 Glare, 35–36, 129, 144
causes of, 47
as a vital sign, 45
manufacturing and engineering example, 45–46 sales and finance example, 46–47
Global Crossing, 16
Governance challenges of complexity, 1, 13, 18f, 193, 196–197, 209–210, 223, 230
board of directors oversight, 16, 37–38
considerations worksheets, 204, 210 culture, 206–208, 207f
culture of learning, 13–14, 155–164
vital signs, 13
effective systems, 197–199, 202f autonomy and control, 199 creative tension, 199–200 feedback loops, 201–202 information utilization (rigor/discipline), 202–205 primary focus on customers, 200 governance systems, 15–16 informational forums case example, 205–206 leadership DNA, 14–15, 175–178, 183–184
as perils/opportunities, 4f, 196
scenario one, 194
scenario two, 195
third scenario, 195–196
Graham, Katherine, 175
Growth (organizational), 40f and alignment, 131–133
and challenges, 38–39
and complexity, 1
and formal governance systems, 196–197 and culture maintenance, 166–169 and momentum, 39
and recycling, 39
stage length, 38
stages of, 21–22
stage 1/single focus, 22–27 stage 2/adding products, 27–29 stage 3/multiple product lines, 29–32 stage 4/multiple business lines, 33–38
H
Hewlett, William, 22, 175, 181
HP, 94, 174, 175
AHP Way, 181–182
IBM, 61, 62, 181
and Cisco, 25
and governance systems, 16
PC announcement, 72 proprietary software mistake, 37 and SNA (systems network architecture), 52–53, 108
Immel, Jeff, 175
Inertia, 23
case example, 24
learning inertia, 26
Information Age, and market instability, 6
Information gaps, as sign of misalignment, 145
Innovation, 9–10, 51–52
change categories, 57
considerations worksheets, 55, 59
see also Disruptions dimension Intel, 6, 108, 109, 181
as disruptor company, 56
Intergraph, 53
Ivester, Doug, 173
Index.qrk 3/8/03 10:28 AM Page 251
Jobs, Steve, 10
Juniper Networks, 68, 73, 113
K
Kaufman Footwear (Ontario), 24
KayPro, 72
Kimberly Clark, 176, 184
Kroc, Ray, 23
L
Laws of Market Disruption, 59, 60f disruption as structural change driver, 61–62 driving forces alignment and disruption, 60–61 entropy inevitability, 65 kinetic structures prevail, 62–63, 68 predictable patterns of opportunity, 63–65 Leadership, 189
authenticity, 177–178
case example of developing cultural fit, 186–188
considerations worksheet, 191 development of, 184, 185–186 hiring practices, 185
DNA, 14_15, 171, 184f
and boards of directors oversight, 184 changes over time, 181–183
and governance systems, 183–184 ingredients, 175–176 specialized ingredients, 179–180, 179f
vital signs, 189, 190f
faster environments, 180–181
leaders as coaches, 162_164, 163f learning bias, 178–179 rock star leaders, 172–173 alternative focus, 174–175 rock star focus, 173–174 service orientation, 178 slower environments, 180
Litan, Robert, 226
Longaberger, 6, 7, 8f
as disruptor company, 56
Lowry, Glenn, 183
Lucent Technologies, 7–8, 68, 114, 115, 150–151, 173 board oversight/CEO failure, 214–215 culture challenges, 169 and TDM technology, 73–74
M
McDonald’s, 23
as disruptor company, 56
McGinn, Rich, 173
Marketing, guerilla marketing, 25 Markets
dimensions of disruption, 9–10, 54–55, 54f technology inertia, 52–53 physics of, 59
and turning points, 9 Markets, continued

see also Laws of Market Disruption

Mary Kay, 6
Mattel, 173
MCI, 8f
  as disruptor company, 56
  impact on AT&T, 25
Microcom, 109
Microsoft, 6, 61, 108, 229
  as disruptor company, 56 multiple products example, 30 product development case example, 29 Momentum factor, 21, 39, 42
Morgridge, John, 90, 182
Multiple business lines
  alignment, 34–37
  board of directors oversight, 37–38
  Cisco case example, 33–34
  complexity dimensions, 33, 34f and resistance to change, 36–37 Multiple product lines stage of growth, 29–30 differentiating strategy, 31–32
  effective governance systems, 31–32
  Microsoft case example, 30
Museum of Modern Art (MOMA/NY), 183

N
Nokia, as disruptor company, 56
Nortel, 68, 114
  and TDM technology, 73–74
Novell, 108
Noyce, Bob, 22

O
Oldenburg, Richard, 183
Oracle, 181
Osborne, Adam, 72
Outward Bound program, 132–133

P
Packard, David, 22, 175, 181
Patterns of behavior, 14
Pee wee soccer dynamics, 128
Planar disruption, 6–7, 229
Platinum Software, case example of alignment, 125–126, 127
Pocket vetoes, as sign of misalignment, 145 Product transitions, 71, 230
  axioms, 82–83
  case examples, 72–75
  case study, 76–84
  background/Cisco’s product transition history, 241–243 background/meeting the competition, 244 background/option choice, 247–248 background/sales and distribution, 244–246 background/user-access market development, 243 challenges, 74
Catch-22, 75
  customer demand, 74–75
  considerations worksheet, 86
  planning tools, 84
  Four-Square Product Planning Model, 84–86, 85f Product-Transition Checklist, 84f and stage of growth, 27, 74
  vital signs, 87, 87f
Products
  adding, 27
  product transitions, 27–29
  multiple lines, 29–32
PSInet, and Ascend, 7

R
Redback, 113
Research and Development (R&D) engine, 22–23

S
September 11, 2001, impact, 216
Shiva, 109
Silicon Valley, market disruption, 10
Silo organizations, 35, 134–135
and glare, 35–36
Single focus stage of growth change/disruption mindset, 23–25
  culture of learning, 25–26
  leadership DNA, 26–27
  Research and Development (R&D) engine, 22–23 value chain, 22, 23f
Smith, Darwin, 176, 184
Sputnik, 60
Strain, as sign of misalignment, 144
Stratacom, 112
Strategies for success case study/Cisco A&D model, 90, 91–92, 106, 106f analysis of, 94, 101–102 basic risk management, 94–96, 95f customer satisfaction management, 96 investment timing, 97
  new expertise vs. current skill set, 96–97 opportunity cost of change (for customers), 96 product vs. people orientation, 97 R&D vs. M&A, 97
  risks turned to advantage, 97–99 synergy matrix tool, 99–101, 99f CEO’s beliefs, 91
  channel and product compatibility assessment tool, 104–105, 105f exploitability assessment, 102, 104, 104f external investment, 92 implementation, 93–94 internal investment, 92, 93
Strategy
  considerations worksheet, 119