

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Cheryl Brumbaugh-Duncan, founder of Virtually Global Communications, has been developing Web sites for more than five years. Through a combination of Macromedia Flash and HTML, she has created many leading-edge Web sites for her clients, including Qwest, Energy Investments, Inc., and System Services Corporation. Cheryl has a passion for technology, learning, and teaching. She has developed many online education courses and has found Flash to be an ideal medium for the creation and delivery of these courses. With a masters degree in education, she has been teaching individuals and companies through creative techniques, courses, books, and programs for the past 16 years. Recently, she authored Macromedia Flash 5 from Scratch (Que Publishing, ©2001) and has been involved in the technical editing process on more than 10 software-related books. To learn more about Cheryl, visit her company's Web site at www.virtually-global.com.