

DETROIT

Detroit is located on the banks of the Detroit River between Lake St. Clair and Lake Erie, a short drive to Windsor, Canada. The Detroit Metropolitan area is comprised of Wayne, Oakland, and Macomb counties, and is the global headquarters for four of the world's top automakers—General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co., DaimlerChrysler AG, and Volkswagen of America. The region also ranks as a leader in the paints, rubber products, synthetic resins, and garden seed businesses. The Budd Company and Stroh's Brewery Company are also headquartered in the area.

Major revitalization investments in downtown Detroit have made the city much safer in recent years; problem areas are confined to the fringe of the city. Detroit's main business center is its downtown Central Business District (CBD). Other major centers in the metro area are Ann Arbor, Dearborn, Southfield, and Troy.

The Central Business District is encircled by I-75 to the north, the Lodge Freeway (route 10) to the west, the Detroit River to the south, and I-375 to the east. The Renaissance Center, Cobo Conference/Exhibition Center, Campus Martius, and Greektown are located in the CBD. General Motors is headquartered in the Renaissance Center, a redeveloped seven-tower office and retail center near the Detroit-Windsor Tunnel. Campus Martius is a five-block mixed-use development area scheduled for completion in 2005; CompuWare's new headquarters is located here. The Greektown district is a lively neighborhood with hotels, restaurants, and the new Greektown Casino.

Three casinos are located in downtown Detroit—Greektown Casino and MGM Grand Detroit Casino, located in the CBD, and the MotorCity Casino, just outside. All three are presently in temporary structures and expect to be in nearby permanent structures by 2005.

Ann Arbor, located about 40 miles due west of Detroit, is home to Borders Books, Dominos Pizza, and the University of Michigan. Dearborn, about 10 miles west of Detroit, is the Ford Motor Company's company town. Southfield, located about 17 miles north of Detroit, claims to be the home of some 8,600 businesses and the offices of 140 "Fortune 500" companies, as well as the location of more high-tech companies than any other Michigan city. Troy is located about 20 miles due north of Detroit; Kmart and Kelly Services are headquartered there.

If you are considering heading to downtown Detroit during the second or third week of January, or the first week of March, you will find hotels and parking scarce. That's because two major conventions—the North American International Auto Show (second week in January) and the Society of Automotive Engineers Congress and Expo (first week of March)—occur annually during those time periods. Plan ahead.

Metro Airport is located 20 miles southwest of downtown Detroit. Situated on 6,700 acres, Metro's three separate terminal buildings are the new Edward H. McNamara Terminal, the L.C. Smith Terminal, and the Michael Berry Terminal. To get from terminal to terminal, take the airport's Terminal Shuttle Vans, a 5 to 10 minute ride.

The 97-gate Edward H. McNamara Terminal has three concourses: A, B, and C. Passenger drop-off and ticketing are located on the upper departures level. Domestic arrivals and baggage claim are on the domestic arrivals level. International flights arrive on the lower level. McNamara serves Northwest, KLM, Lufthansa, and Continental airlines.

Concourse A, at nearly a mile long, is the largest concourse at the McNamara Terminal. Two Express Trams run the length of the concourse and can make the trip from one end of the concourse to the other in about 3 minutes; it takes about 16 minutes to walk using the moving walkways. To reach concourses B and C from concourse A, you must travel via escalators (or just use the nearby elevators) to the underground pedestrian tunnel.

Short-term parking for McNamara is connected to the main terminal via a pedestrian bridge. Valet parking is also provided, for a daily rate of $26.

McNamara's concourse A has 22 eateries and 35 shops scattered throughout the concourse. Eateries include Budweiser Brewhouse (A30), Chili's Too! (A-36), Diego's Mexican Village (A14), Java Coast Café (4 locations), Mediterranean Grill (A54), Musashi (central link area), National Coney Island (A-45), Online Café Bar and Grill (A36), Rag Top Café Grill and Deli (A74), Rio Wraps (A60), and Starbucks (central link area).

Shops in concourse A include Brooks Brothers (central link area), Details women's apparel (A29), the DTW Press newsstand (5 locations), Gadgets to Go (A35), Heritage Books (A17 and A65), Motown Music Review (2 locations), and the Ora Oxygen spa (A45), as well as nine gift shops with a variety of themes.

Concourses B and C have a much more limited selection of eateries and retailers. Look for Pasta Pasta, Wings & Things, and Einstein Brothers Bagels near gate B6.

The luxury Westin Detroit Metropolitan Airport Hotel (☎734.942.6500) is located on the departures level at McNamara Terminal and is connected to the terminal's ticket lobby. The upscale, open-air DEMA Restaurant located in the Westin Hotel serves Asian-themed cuisine from 5 a.m. to 11 p.m.; the hotel also has two bar lounges.

The two-level Smith Terminal has three concourses: A, B, and C. Ticketing and gates are located on the upper departures level; baggage claim is below on the arrivals level. Smith Terminal serves Air Canada, American, America West, Delta, Comair, Southwest, Spirit, United, and US Airways.

Smith has a much more limited selection of restaurants than McNamara. The Jose Cuevo Tequileria is a full-service restaurant located near the entrance to concourses A and B; in addition, you will find a variety of delis and fast food establishments, including Cinnabon, Nathan's Hot Dogs, and Starbucks. The Marriott Hotel (☎734.941.9400) is connected to the Smith Terminal and has several small meeting rooms, as well as a business center with workstations and secretarial services.

The tiny Berry Terminal has just four gates. Passenger drop-off/pickup, ticketing, and luggage claim are all on ground level. The gates are located above, on the departures level. Berry serves ATA, British Airways, Champion Air, and charter flights. Berry has a lounge and deli located on either end of the departures level.

Both Smith and Berry have short-term parking directly in front of the terminals.

Located at the airport: Alamo, Avis, Dollar, Hertz, National, and Thrifty

Located off-airport (just outside airport grounds):

Budget (📍 8715 Wickham Rd.) and Enterprise (📍 11375 Middlebelt Rd.)

Taxis

Metro Cabs (☎ 800.745.5191) is the only taxi service out of the airport. Fares to Ann Arbor run about $39, to Detroit (downtown) about $32, and to Dearborn about $21. Fares are metered and will be slightly higher from McNamara Terminal than from Smith and Berry Terminals.

Limousines

Metro Cars (☎ 800.456.1701

🌐 www.metrocars.net) provides private luxury sedan service. You can either make reservations in advance or call when you arrive. The approximate one-way fares are $51 to Ann Arbor, $45 to Detroit (downtown), and $33 to Dearborn.

Shuttle Buses and Share-Ride Shuttles

Ken's Airport Shuttle (☎ 734.941.7777) provides shuttle bus service for individuals and groups. Reservations are required in advance. One-way rates for 1 to 4 persons are $46 to downtown Detroit, $46 to Ann Arbor, and $35 to Dearborn.

Metropolitan Shuttle Bus (☎ 734.727.1740) provides share-ride service. Reservations are required. Round-trip rates to downtown Detroit are $40, to Ann Arbor $40, and to Dearborn $28. If you're booking the van for more than one person, each additional person is $10.

Public Transportation

Not recommended for most business travelers.

REGIONAL AIRPORTS

Several general aviation airports serve the Detroit Metropolitan area.

OAKLAND COUNTY INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT

This airport is located about an hour north of Detroit and claims to be one of the busiest general aviation airports in the country.

AMTRAK

Amtrak is not a good option for most business travelers. The Detroit Station (DET) is located at 📍 11 W. Baltimore Ave., just north of the Central Business District. There is a Hertz rental car location there.

GETTING AROUND

METRO DETROIT

DRIVING, PARKING, AND WALKING

The Motor City is just that—a motor city. Your best bet for getting around is to rent a car.

The interstate highways and the Davison, Lodge, and Southfield freeways easily interconnect to get you from one side of town to the other. Traffic is heaviest driving into the city during the morning rush hour (7:30 a.m.-9:30 a.m.) and out of the city during the evening rush hour (4:30 p.m.-7 p.m.).

There is no logical street naming convention in Detroit, and the city's street layout is a hybrid wagon-wheel-grid kind of thing; you will need good directions or a map. That said, the main drags—Gratiot, Woodward, Grand River, Jackson, and Michigan Avenues—all lead to the Central Business District. Jefferson Avenue runs along the river past Cobo and the Renaissance Center.

RULES OF THE ROAD

Unless otherwise posted, the fastest you may drive in Michigan is 25 m.p.h. in business and residential areas; 45 m.p.h. when driving through a designated work area; 55 m.p.h. on highways; and 70 m.p.h. on freeways. (The minimum speed on freeways is 45 m.p.h.) Michigan law requires everyone in the front seat of a vehicle to wear a seat belt. Violations of the seat belt laws are a primary offense. Headlights must be used a half hour after sunset to a half hour before sunrise, and at other times when visibility is reduced.

PARKING

Metered street parking is available but scarce. Your best bet is to park in a lot or garage. Local commuters complain about the unavailability of inexpensive parking, but compared to most other major cities, it is remarkably inexpensive. Hourly rates run $2 to $3, and all-day rates range from $4 to $10. The city of Detroit's Web site (www.cbdfdestinationdetroit.org/parking.htm) provides good information and a map of parking.

TAXIS

Don't count on flagging a cab in Detroit. Call or go to a hotel or major center if you need one. There is an initial charge of $2.50, with an additional $1.60 for each mile.

Major companies are Checker (☎ 313.963.7000) and Lorraine Taxi (☎ 313.582.6900).

RENTAL CARS

If you are looking to rent a car in downtown Detroit, your best bet is Enterprise, which has the most locations. Hertz has a location at the Amtrak station.

PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION

The Detroit area has no subway, trolley, or commuter train service. The Detroit People Mover, operated by the Detroit Transportation Corporation, is an elevated light rail system, running a one-way 15-minute loop around the Central Business District. The People Mover's 13 stops include Cobo, Renaissance Center, and Greektown; the fare is $.50 per ride. For more information, call the Detroit People Mover at ☎ 313.224.2160 (8 a.m.-5 p.m.) or 313.962.RAIL (after 5 p.m. and on weekends). Its Web site is www.thepeoplemover.com.

IN TOWN

CONVENTION CENTERS

COBO CONFERENCE/EXHIBITION CENTER

Cobo Conference/Exhibition Center is one of the largest convention centers in the nation. Cobo is located on the bank of the Detroit River in Detroit's Central Business District, about 30 minutes from Detroit Metro Airport.

Cobo is one massive four-level building; the concourse alone is 1/4-mile long. Level 0 is the location of Michigan Hall. The Concourse and Street Level 1 is the location of four exhibit halls (Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, and Detroit), which can operate as individual zones or in combination; this level also is host to the Riverview Ballroom. The Ambassador Dining Room is on the second floor, and the People Mover station is on the third floor. The Cobo Hospitality and Business Center (☎ 313.567.2525) is located on the Main Concourse.

Cobo has 1,000 indoor and 1,200 rooftop parking spaces; additional parking is available in a number of lots within a four-block area. If you are attending a large convention (such as the Auto Show), parking at Cobo fills quickly; head over to the Joe Louis Arena Garage adjacent to Cobo (☎ 600 Civic Center Drive), where shuttle buses will bring you to the Center.

You can pick up taxis across the street from the entrance of Cobo Center. Taxi lines can be very long, so you may want to walk over to Hotel Pontchartrain (a short walk from the entrance) and grab one there. Shuttle buses load in the back of the building.

Some of the closest hotels to Cobo are the Marriott, Marriott Courtyard, Ambassador (recently renamed the Holiday Inn Express), and Hotel Pontchartrain. During large conventions, show sponsors make arrangements for shuttle services to ferry visitors to and from suburban hotels.

☎ 313.877.8777 🌐 www.cobocenter.com

HOTELS

Metro Detroit has added more than 2,000 guest rooms in the last two years. The region's largest hotels—the Marriott Renaissance Center and Hyatt Regency Dearborn—have each completed multimillion dollar renovations, and many of the region's other hotels continue to improve their properties and guest services.
