

Getting an Apple ID After Setup

If you chose not to get an Apple ID while you set up your iPad, you can get one later. From the home screen go to the Settings app and follow these steps:

1. Tap Store and then tap Sign In.
2. In the window that pops up, tap Create New Apple ID.
3. Choose the country you live in and then tap Next.
4. Scroll down and tap Agree to agree to the terms of using the iPad. In the window that pops up, tap Agree again.
5. In the next window, fill out the form. You'll need to scroll down to reach some of the options. You'll need to enter your email address, a password you can remember (share it with your parents, as recommended earlier), a security question and answer, your birthday, and decide whether you want to get emails from Apple.
6. When that's done, tap Next and your Apple ID will be set up and your iPad will use it unless you sign out of it.
